Two Hurt In Auto Smashup Off Rt. 13

State Trooper Athmer Struck While Standing Between Cars; Six Arrested

State Trooper Arthur F. Athmer of Shawneetown and Helen Louise Benton, 38, of Sturgis, Ky., were injured early Monday morning in an odd smashup of motor vehicles which resulted in the arrests of six persons.

Athmer, struck by one of two vehicles while standing between them during an investigation by him and State Trooper James Fowler of Eldorado, was confined to his home with a leg injury, and the woman was taken to the Eldorado hospital with scalp and chest injuries.

Troopers Fowler and Guthrie Alexander of Harrisburg, who arrived with Gallatin county Deputy Sheriff Jim Fox during a chain of events, gave the account of what happened.

Fowler and Athmer saw a car parked at 12:45 a. m. on a gravel road just off Route 13 between Shawneetown and Old Shawneetown with its driver asleep. They drove up beside this vehicle and found Robert L. Luckett, 25, Ridgeway, sleeping. They had aroused him when an auto with Otto Walther Ballard, 52, Shawneetown, hit the gravel road from Route 13 and struck both the state police car and Luckett's vehicle. Athmer, who was standing between the cars, was injured by one of them, and the Benton woman, in Ballard's car, also was hurt. All three cars were damaged considerably.

Later a car driven by Walter Waters of Shawneetown plowed into the group of vehicles and one driven by Hubert Holland of Omaha was stopped just before his auto reached the wreckage.

Alexander said that Waters hit the cars with both the state police car and the deputy's car having their red dome lights blinking, with six fuses burning and with four officers with flashlights tagging down traffic.

Jailed were Ballard, driver of the first car, who was to be charged this morning, and two companions, Pearl Smyth and Herman Mills, who pleaded guilty to intoxication and were fined; Walter Waters, who also was to be charged, and his companion, Millard Curry, who was fined for intoxication; and Holland, who was to be charged and arraigned today.

Alexander reported that just a few minutes before this series of crashes, Ivan Eugene Tennyson of Mout Vernon, Ind., lost control of his car on Route 13 about 50 yards from the scene of the accident and ran into a ditch. He pleaded guilty to charges of illegal transportation of liquor and driving too fast for conditions and was fined $50 and costs.

Marvel Fined in Gallatin Court

Raymond Marvel has been fined a total of $257 in Gallatin county court on a charge of reckless driving and having no driver's license as a result of an incident which occurred last summer at the Routes 1-13 intersection.

At that time his car struck a post and state police charged him with driving while under the influence of liquor.

The charge was reduced Thursday and the plea of guilty was entered. Marvel did not appear as he was in West Virginia. He was represented by an attorney.

Springfield Girl, 16, Is Found Raped and Slain

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The state's attorney's office announced today that a 16-year-old part-time waitress who disappeared Thursday night was found raped and slain Sunday morning, apparently was "alive until during the evening of Saturday."

Sangamon County State's Atty. J. Waldo Ackerman Jr., who issued the statement, declined to answer any further questions, but it was believed the statement was issued on the basis of an autopsy report.

The statement added that the girl, Mary Jane Hanselman, daughter of a Springfield fire captain, was dressed in a white nylon waitress' uniform, white apron, and yellow sweater, when she disappeared Thursday and when she was found Sunday.

Meanwhile, a third suspect in the case was being given a lie detector test by state crime laboratory officials.

The girl's body was found Sunday at the bottom of a six-foot embankment near the Illinois State Fairgrounds on the north edge of Springfield.

The sophomore at Sacred Heart Academy had been missing since leaving her job at the Georgian restaurant Thursday night.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Tom O'Brien said one of Miss Hanselman's stockings was knotted twice around her neck and she "apparently was strangled."

National Park Official to Visit Shawneetown

A representative of the National Park Service, U. S. Department of Interior, will be in Shawneetown May 2 and 3 to investigate the area as a possible national park.

George M. Scherrer of Shawneetown has received word from Daniel J. Tobin, regional director, National Park Service, stating that a Mr. Shedd will visit Shawneetown in the course of an extended visit through the Midwest and that his time will be limited.

"However," Mr. Tobin's letter stated, "he expects to be able to spend two days at Shawneetown, May 2 and 3. Since it will not be possible for him to make a detailed investigation of all Shawneetown sites at this time... all information which can be assembled beforehand for Mr. Shedd will be useful in determining in what ways he may be able to assist your program."

Mr. Scherrer said that anyone in the area having historical information that would be beneficial to Mr. Shedd should make copies and have them at the Scherrer Hardware Co. store or the office of Horace Brown, Gallatin county superintendent of schools, in Shawneetown. Telephone calls can be made to Shawneetown CO 9-2714 or Eldorado BR 3-6348.

Ike Note to Khrushchev

Asks Arctic Inspection

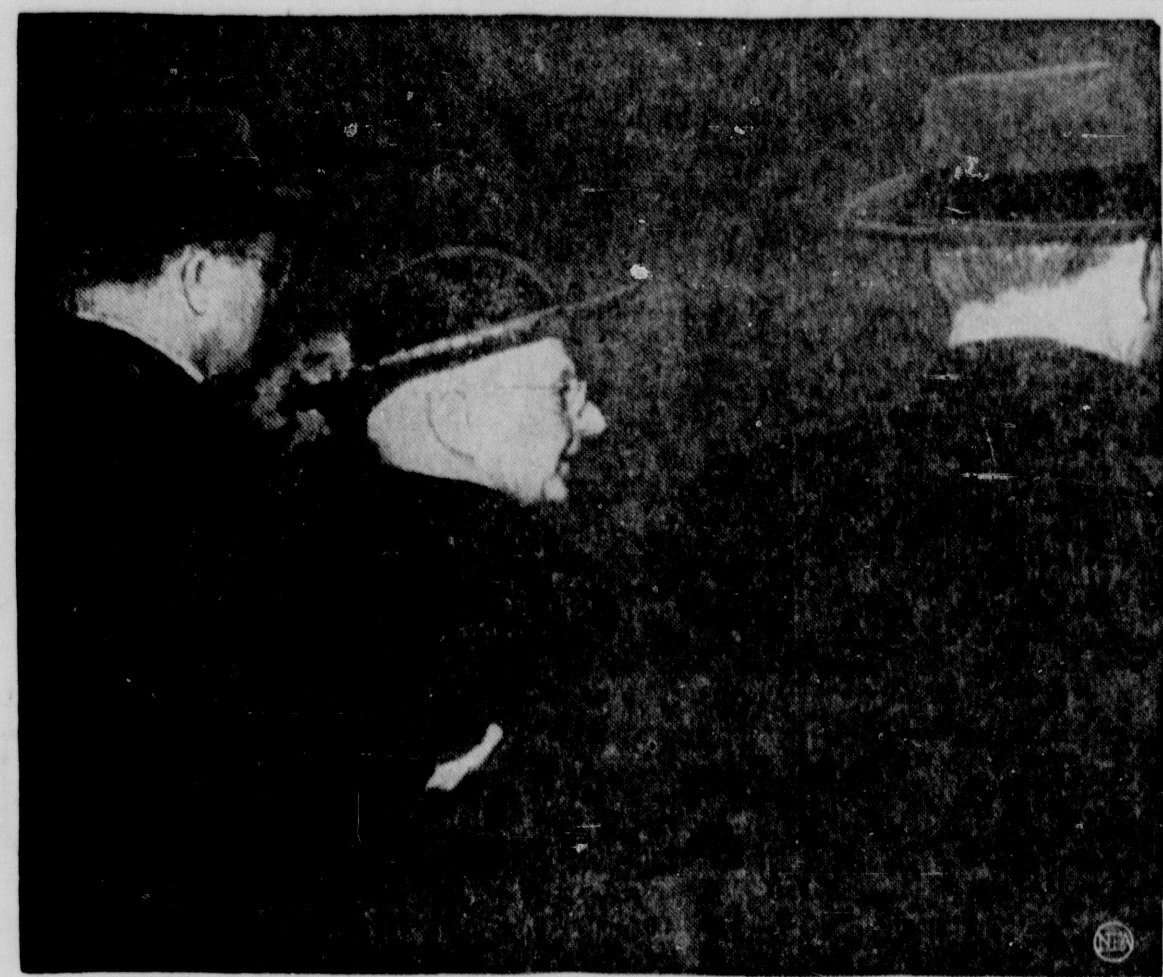

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UP)—President Eisenhower today urged Russia to join in a military control inspection system for the Arctic zone.

"Your support of this proposal and subsequent cooperation would help to achieve a significant first step," the President said.

"It would help reduce tensions, it would contribute to an increase of confidence among states, and help to reduce the mutual fears of surprise attack."

Declaring that the United States "is determined that we will ultimately reach an agreement on disarmament," the President noted that he had proposed the technical studies, in an April 8 letter to Khrushchev.

CARDINAL STRITCH STRICKEN—Samuel Cardinal Stritch, archbishop of Chicago, center, is shown upon his arrival in Rome, Italy, where he has undergone surgery for removal of his right arm. Cardinal Stritch had journeyed to Rome to take up his new post as pro-prefect of the Sacred Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith.

Italian Surgeon Amputates Arm Of Cardinal Stritch in Rome

ROME (UP)—An Italian surgeon amputated the right arm of Samuel Cardinal Stritch midway between the shoulder and elbow today in a 35-minute operation. The Chicago archbishop was reported in "very good condition."

The 70-year-old prelate received Holy Communion just before he was wheeled into the operating room for drastic surgery necessitated by a blood clot in his right arm.

He had spent the night with a major relic of the arm of Saint Francis Xavier by his bedside and then was wheeled into the operating room of Sanatrix Clinic for the operation by a team of four doctors headed by Prof. Pietro Valdoni of Italy.

Others assisting the operation were Dr. John Keeley, a Chicago heart specialist who flew here with Dr. John Bergen, the prelate's Chicago physician, and three Italian doctors: Vatican physician Filippo Rocchi and Dr. Giulio Bolaffio, one of Valdoni's chief assistants.

Franklin 'Dusty' Groves, 85, Dies At Eldorado

Franklin "Dusty" Groves, 85, a retired coal miner who resided at RFD 2, Eldorado, died in the Pearce hospital at 10:15 a. m. Saturday following a two weeks illness. He is survived by his sons, Frank Groves, Detroit, Mich., Fred Groves, Eldorado, and Floyd Groves; his daughters, Mrs. Fred Orazine, Eldorado, Mrs. Mary Ories and Miss Elizabeth Groves; seven grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

The body was in the care of the Martin funeral home in Eldorado and the funeral services were held in the chapel there at 2 p. m. today. The Rev. Eddie Hatfield officiated and burial was in the Wolf Creek cemetery.

Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, the Papal physician, watched the operation on behalf of the Pope. Dr. Bergen did not attend but visited Stritch later.

"Dr. Valdoni said the operation was a success and the cardinal's condition is very good," an official spokesman said.

Pope Pius was immediately informed of the successful operation. Amputation of the cardinal's right arm does not bar him from saying Mass or continuing his functions.

"The cardinal was already awake when we wheeled him out of the operating room and he talked to us about his treatment and how good the hospital was," Dr. Rocchi said. "The cardinal did not suffer at all."

He added that Cardinal Stritch appeared "completely satisfied" that everything had been done to save the arm.

Dr. Rocchi said the cardinal must remain in the clinic for about two weeks.

Cardinal Stritch arrived in Italy only three days ago to assume a high Vatican post unprecedented for an American-born churchman. An official spokesman said the Pope's appointment of Cardinal Stritch as pro-prefect of the Sacred Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith — virtual head of Roman Catholic missions throughout the world — still stands. It depends on whether the cardinal himself wants to continue in that post, the sources indicated.

Autos of Two Young Ministers Collide on Way to Churches

Automobiles of two young ministers en route to their churches collided at 9:05 a. m. Sunday at Route 13 and the Harco road west of Harrisburg and one person was injured.

They were the Rev. Paul Dann Jr., 20, Benton, on his way to Macedonia Baptist church at Mitchellville, and the Rev. Louis Frick Jr. of Herrin, en route to Buena Vista Methodist church a short distance west of the city.

State Trooper Adolph Sweet said that young Dann, who was cutting through from Route 34 on the Harco road, stopped at Route 13, then pulled out into the path of the Frick car driven by Rev. Frick's wife Shirley, 21, who was taken to the Lightner hospital and released after treatment for head cuts and bruises. Sweet said she was driving the auto.

Rev. Dann was alone in his auto.

Hill Honored for Work in Social Security Office

E. Bishop Hill, district manager of the Harrisburg Social Security Administration office, has been awarded a "Director's Citation" for unusual skill in marshalling bureau resources for handling disaster situations, and for 20 years of exemplary performance in public administration, community relations, and administration. The award was made by Victor Christgau, Director, Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance of the Social Security Administration, Baltimore, Maryland.

The director's citation is one of the highest awards made by the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance and is presented annually to a very few employees throughout the nation for unusual and outstanding performance over a long period of years. Mr. Hill was one of only three district managers in Region V-A, comprising the states of Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin, to receive the director's citation this year. The presentation ceremonies were held last Friday in the regional offices of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in Chicago. Mr. Hill was present to receive the citation from Melville H. Hosh, Regional Director of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, and Albert A. Kuhle, Regional Representative of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance. Mr. Kuhle also received a director's citation.

Mr. Hill has been eminently successful in the field of public administration and has long been active in church and community affairs. His many friends in this area will be pleased to learn of this well-earned recognition.

Outlines Plan Before Senate Subcommittee

Subsidy Payments Would Go to Domestic Producers

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of Interior Fred A. Seaton proposed today a five-year price support program for five minerals.

Seaton, testifying before the Senate Interior Minerals subcommittee, outlined a "domestic minerals stabilization plan" for copper, lead, zinc, acid-grade fluorspar and tungsten.

The subsidy program would cost the treasury 161 million dollars the first year and less "as production responds to demand and as our economy resumes its long-term health and vigor," Seaton said.

He said a bill setting up the price support plan would be sent to Congress soon.

The payments under the plan would be the difference between an estimated stabilization price for each mineral and the price it is bringing on the U. S. open market. Seaton said there would be "adequate safeguards to insure the equitable distribution of stabilization payments within each industry to give 'all producers — small or large' a chance to participate."

"Domestic producers" would receive the payments under Seaton's plan.

The program, to be administered by the Interior Department, would include a yearly limit on the amounts of each mineral for which price supports would be paid.

The five minerals, the proposed stabilization prices, and the proposed yearly limitations:

Copper—27 1/2 cents a pound; 1 million tons.

Lead—14 3/4 cents a pound; 350,000 tons.

Zinc—12 3/4 cents a pound; 350,000 tons.

Acid-grade fluorspar—$48 a short ton; 180,000 tons.

Tungsten—$36 a short ton unit; 375,000 short ton units.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Show us the father and it suffices us, John 14:8. God's face is reflected in the faces of a few of his saints. God's face was truly seen in his son's face.

Tradition Pays Off

It's a good old American custom. We refer to the way friends and neighbors get together to tackle their problems.

We've done it from the beginning of our history—from the first stockade built by the first settlers.

Barn-raising, corn-huskings, PTA meetings, church festivals and all the other get-togethers to achieve communal goals—they're in the same fine tradition.

And so are the victories that have been won against disease during this century of medical know-how.

We are justly proud of our scientists who have vanquished so many one-time killers since 1900 and added 22 years to our life expectancy. But let's be proud of our share in this achievement, because we are the ones who gave our scientists the tools they needed for their great research projects.

The defeat of disease since the turn of the century is splendid evidence of what we can accomplish by cooperative and voluntary effort: voluntary agencies working with volunteers and supported by voluntary contributions. Here in America we give—time or money—because we want to. And it pays off.

Fresh in memory is the fight against polio. The American people bought and paid for the victory against polio. We contributed almost half a billion dollars over eighteen years. That's a lot of money, but can anyone doubt it was worth the return of the Salk vaccine?

Let's go back a few years and remember diabetes and tuberculosis and typhoid and pneumonia—just to mention a few other diseases that no longer take a heavy toll of mankind.

And then let's give sober thought to the fact that April is Cancer Control Month, and that cancer is the number two disease killer in the United States today!

The American Cancer Society believes science can and will find the answer to cancer, too. Only two things are needed: Time and the tools for research.

Let's keep this in mind when we hear a knock and open the door to a Cancer Crusader. The national goal is $30,000,000.

And multiply that Crusader by two million! That's the number of ACS volunteers who will visit their friends and neighbors to ask them to "fight cancer with a checkup and a check."

Friends and neighbors—there is the cue to our American way for getting things done!

The first metropolitan police force, formed for the exclusive purpose of enforcing law and preventing crime, was organized in 1829 in London, England by Sir Robert Peel. He had first experimented with such a force, called the "Peelers," in Ireland. To this day London policemen are called "bobbies," after Peel's nickname, "Bobby."

The Last Time I Saw Paris

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

JACK ANDERSON Says: Feuds break out over anti-feuding measure; Defense aids bog down military machinery; Ike favored stripping three services. (Editor's Note—With Drew Pearson in the Middle West, his column today is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON—The President's military reorganization plan, which is supposed to stop interservice feuding, has started some dandy new feuds.

Feud No. 1—The armed services are feuding behind the scenes over the best way to halt their feuding. The Air Force favors the President's plan, the Navy is against it and the Army is split.

Through its civilian arms—the Navy League and Naval Advisory Council—the Navy is waging an undercover campaign against Ike's proposals. Retired Adm. J. M. Reeves Jr., Advisory Council chairman, has called on his members to bring pressure on congressmen to defeat the President's reorganization plan.

Reeves's confidential letter warns: "Do not—repeat do not—speak as a member of the Advisory Council or Navy League but as an individual citizen. This personal contact is most important at this time either by telephone, wire or person-to-person approach."

Feud No. 2—Georgia's crusty, crafty Congressman Carl Vinson, who has opened hostile hearings on the reorganization bill, is feuding with the White House over who should write the final version. "I appreciate the President's interest," Vinson told White House aides bluntly, "but Congress is going to write the reorganization bill."

VINSON FORCES ACTION The caustic Georgian prepared a speech last week blasting Ike for talking about reorganization but sending Congress no formal recommendations. The White House got advance wind of the speech and in order to thwart Vinson rushed Ike's proposed bill to the press a couple hours before Vinson took the floor.

It remains to be seen whether the reorganization battle will be a feud to end all feuds.

Whatever the outcome, however, it promises to be the greatest military debate since the Air Force was split off from the Army in 1947 and the three sister services were sent to live together in the Pentagon in what was supposed to be one big happy family. Instead, they put on a display of eye-scratching, back-biting, and hair-pulling that drove the first Secretary of Defense, the late James Forrestal, literally out of his mind. Interservice rivalry has gone so far that the services now keep secrets, including vital missile information, from each other. Thousands of classified papers are stamped for Army, Navy, or Air Force eyes only.

At the same time, the defense machinery has become hopelessly clogged with red tape. Gen. Maxwell Taylor, the Army chief, has complained that 19 civilian officials stand between him and the commander-in-chief. All 19 have a say in how the Army should be run.

WILSON'S "NO-MEN" Former Secretary of Defense Charlie Wilson surrounded himself with 29 deputy or assistant secretaries, similar to General Motors vice presidents, who had authority to say "no" but seldom "yes." In other words, they had a negative authority which does not permit them to make high policy decisions but only to block them. They are still functioning.

Wilson built up a gigantic, unwieldy staff of over 2,400 employees, divided into empires within empires. These empires are headed by deputies and assistants who keep adding more employees on the theory that the more Indians they command the bigger chief they become.

The result, however, is to impede and obstruct decision-making. A new idea must pass through stifling layers of bureaucracy. By the time it has run the gauntlet of assistants, it is weighted down with so many comments that the Secretary of Defense has difficulty wading through the accumulated memos.

Eisenhower and Vinson have different ideas about how to correct the abuses. Ike wants to downgrade the three services and give the Secretary of Defense more power. His plan, however, abolishes the right of military subordinates to bring their differences over defense policies to Congress. This is a right for which Congress will battle to the end.

IKE'S IDEAS "TOO DRASTIC" The President seriously considered stripping the three services of their departmental standing and making their civilian chiefs undersecretaries of defense for Army, Navy, and Air. Secretary of Defense McElroy persuaded the President, however, that this would be too drastic.

On the other hand, Vinson wants to bolster the independence of the three services by bringing the secretaries of the Army, Navy, and Air Force into the powerful, policy-making National Security Council.

His plan would also streamline the Pentagon more drastically than the President's recommendations by slashing the secretary's staff from 2,400 to 600 employees and eliminating 14 deputy and assistant secretaries. It would also curb the power of the defense comptroller whose fiscal policies have often determined defense decisions.

Meanwhile the battle lines are drawn and Washington is settling down to a good fight.

RACKET BUSTER LAUNCHES DRIVE

The Justice Department's new racket buster, 34-year-old Milton Wessel, has already started collecting information from the FBI, Secret Service, Internal Revenue, and Narcotics Bureau on the nation's 100 top racketeers.

Wessel is also forming a 15-man task force of attorneys who will trace the interlocking operations of the gangland chiefs, then crack down by every legal means to break up the big, multibillion-dollar underworld rackets.

Originally the plan had been to keep Wessel's task force undercover until it collected enough evidence to present to a special grand jury, probably in early 1960. But rumors began to leak out and Attorney General Bill Rogers decided to issue an announcement.

About 15 years before Robert Fulton built his first steam-powered boat, John Fitch had constructed a steamboat and had demonstrated it on the Delaware River at Philadelphia. The 45-foot boat was launched in August, 1787, and it traveled along the river at four miles an hour. In 1788, Fitch launched a longer, narrower and faster boat.

CELEBRATES 101ST BIRTHDAY—Mrs. Carrie Wilson, 101 years old today, is shown as she received friends Sunday at an open house at 403 East Poplar street, Harrisburg, where she resides with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hess. Most of her callers came between 2 and 4 p. m. and will be welcome today, also. The family will gather for a dinner in the home this evening. (Register Photo By Ed Seright)

'Wanted Place to Live!' Theme for May Fellowship Day Service Friday

By Bess Pemberton

"Wanted a place to live!" This is the theme of the May Fellowship worship service at the First Christian church Friday May 2, at 7:30 p. m. Ray Durham will speak on some phase of this subject.

May Fellowship Day is a time for a nationwide effort to unify faiths, races—all Christendom—in the fight for peace and understanding. United Church Women of Harrisburg extend to all an invitation to join them in this fight for a better world.

The theme of the service, "Wanted a place to live," is important even in the United States. Every seven and a half seconds a new baby is born. Every 11 seconds there is a net gain of one person.

Some of the babies are born in big city slums where rat-infested alleyways serve as play yards for children. Others arrive in rural shanty towns to migrant crop pickers living in shacks made of boxes and oil tins. In such slums illness is common because good water and sanitation are missing. Flash fires sweep through such dwellings, maiming and killing. Crime breeds, especially juvenile delinquency. Mental illness lurks.

Ten million American church women are trying to erect a stop sign to such evils. Across the land forums and public meetings will be held before and on May 2. Authorities in the housing field will speak or take part in round-table discussions. City planners and city fathers will join.

"A place to live" means more than a shelter from cold. It means a home, a place where families can live in dignity and comfort, where children can develop into well-rounded personalities.

Those who oppose such work will say the underprivileged will not appreciate comfortable homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Polk have returned from a trip during which they visited both of their children. Wednesday they attended an open house in Chicago for parents of students of the Illinois School of Dentistry, with their son, Charles Polk. On the return trip they stopped at Homer to visit Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Craver and they also spent the week end in St. Louis, Mo., at the Shoe Manufacturers show.

Mrs. Clarence Howell has returned from Melrose Park, near Chicago, where she spent the past month with her daughter, Mrs. Jackie Robinson, and the new baby son, Kenneth Dale, born to the Robinsons a month ago.

Mrs. Willie Cummins, RFD 3, Harrisburg, underwent major surgery at Welborn Memorial hospital in Evansville, Ind., Saturday. Her condition is reported to be satisfactory and her room number is 285.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McKenzie, Fred McKenzie Jr. and Kaye, Evansville, Ind., were week end guests of Mr. McKenzie's mother, Mrs. Ethel McKenzie, and Mrs. Fred McKenzie's sister, Mrs. Joe Dorris, in Harrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Horning of Fort Pierce, Fla., are visiting in Harrisburg with relatives and friends.

Calendar Of Meetings

High school students who were winners in writing essays on alcohol, sponsored by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will read their essays this evening at 7:45 over station WEBQ. The first winner was George Dennis, second, Kay Pelhank, third, Charlene Boone and fourth, Mary Jane Guard.

Carrier Mills IOOF lodge No. 874 will meet at 7:30 tonight. Members are urged to attend and visitors are welcome. E. T. Thomas, N. G.

Beta Sigma Phi sorority will hold its Founders Day meeting in the First Presbyterian church at 6:30 p. m. today. The Founders Day award will be presented at this meeting.

The term "Christian" was first applied to the followers of Jesus Christ in Antioch (Antakya), Turkey, scene of St. Paul's first ministry.

cent of farm dwellings meet minimum standards.

Mrs. Chapman asks what America must do to prepare for a population of 204,400,000 in 1970.

In answer, U. C. W. leaders ask for slum clearance, housing for migrants, for the outlawing of restrictive covenants which bar certain racial groups and for an end to segregated housing.

They claim that the best preventive against the infiltration of crime and communism is a happy contented citizenry.

Farewell to Arms, Powerful War Picture at Orpheum

David O. Selznick's Cinema-Scope, color production of Ernest Hemingway's great war novel, "A Farewell to Arms," which opened Friday at the Orpheum theatre, is one of the most powerful examples ever produced of translating the work of a writer into a true and great motion picture.

The common denominator in this difficult translation is Producer Selznick, who has equalled his earlier masterpiece, "Gone With the Wind." Utilizing a top star—Rock Hudson, Jennifer Jones and Vittorio De Sica, along with an internationally famous supporting cast—Selznick and Director Charles Vidor have maintained an even motion picture pace while retaining all of the depth, pathos, humor and humanity of Hemingway's story of love amongst the chaos of war.

Shot in realistic color throughout North and Central Italy, the film moves with natural rapidity through the battle scenes, the staggering troop movements up the treacherous slopes of the Dolomite Mountains and through the streets of the ancient towns of Udine, Zenzene, Misurina and Brunico. For other phases of the production, filming was done in Rome and Milan.

Gang Leader Admits Slaying Teen-Age Rival

NEW YORK (AP)—A snarling 20-year-old gang leader Sunday night admitted the shotgun slaying of a teen-age gang rival who gave him "a dirty look."

Five detectives, acting on a girl friend's tip, seized and disarmed Ramon Serra about 17 hours after the slaying of 17-year-old Michael Ramos, a gang organizer who served as a prosecution witness in the recent mass juvenile Michael Farmer murder trial.

Bronx District Attorney Daniel V. Sullivan said he would ask a grand jury to indict Serra for first degree murder. Conviction could mean death in the electric chair.

Police quoted Serra as saying, "I'm sorry I shot him. I didn't mean to pull the trigger. My finger just tightened. I only wanted to cock the gun."

Police said Serra was captured after being lured to a rendezvous by 14-year-old Alice Sayron. They said he was seized while trying to draw a fully loaded Italian-made automatic pistol. He later signed a full confession according to police.

At first, police thought the shooting might have been in retaliation for Ramos' testimony at the Farmer murder trial. Four of the seven defendants were convicted. However, they said the shotgun slaying stemmed from the shooting of a 17-year-old member of Serra's gang by a teenage gang ally of Ramos 14 days ago.

On Three Conditions

UAW Offers to Extend Big Three Wage Contracts Until September

DETROIT AP—The United Auto Workers Union, its bargaining demands riddled by the recession, offered today to extend present big three contracts until next September.

But the union attached three conditions to the three-month extension.

It said the auto companies must cut car prices by an unspecified amount to help clean up the supply of 850,000 to 900,000 new cars on hand.

The union said the companies and the union should wage a joint campaign to reduce or repeal the 10 per cent federal excise tax on the factory price of new cars.

Seven Highway Fatalities

By United Press

Two children aged 3 and 9 and a Streator High School football player were among victims of Illinois weekend traffic fatalities.

At least seven persons were killed on state highways from 6 p. m. Friday until midnight Sunday.

Killed Sunday night when a car in which he was riding skidded off a road near Streator was Rodney G. Stimpert, 18, Streator, a prep grid player. His companion, Richard Abdour, 16, was injured.

Earlier, Virginia Nutt, 3, Monroeville, was killed Friday evening when a car driven by her mother and another car collided at an intersection in the community.

Ronnie Bohannon, 9, Alton, was killed Saturday morning in Alton when his bicycle was struck by a pickup truck.

Rose Roethe, 80, Pinckneyville, was injured fatally when she was struck by a car Saturday while crossing a street in Pinckneyville.

Henry Lyghtle, 35, Chester, was killed near Steeleville Friday night when his car missed a curve and rammed a tree.

Two Harrisburg Men Arrested

Two Harrisburg men were arrested at 4:15 p. m. yesterday and jailed to await filing of charges. They were William Allen Joyner, 35, and his uncle, Monroe Joyner, 46.

State Trooper Adolph Sweat, who brought them to the county jail, said he picked them up after their car hit a telephone pole near the Carrier Mills grade school.

He said the younger man was driving, that the older one suffered head injuries in the crash.

William Joyner today was charged with driving while intoxicated and his uncle, who was hospitalized with his injury, was charged with public intoxication.

Both sides have already called for this.

The UAW's third demand was that the companies continue to pay supplemental unemployment benefits at present rates to any laid off workers who exhaust their benefits.

The new proposals were being offered to General Motors, Ford and Chrysler negotiators this afternoon.

UAW officers said the union's offer was made to increase car sales, reduce the 66-day inventory of new cars and keep the auto plants running this summer. They said unless something is done to sell the huge supply of cars, the auto plants will be closed down nearly all summer, until 1959 model production starts next fall.

Company spokesmen admitted today Reuther's move is a smart one. If contracts are extended until early September, they would expire just as 1959 model production is getting underway. A union strike threat would again have meaning.

But if the companies pay "no" to the extension offer, they might face government and public criticism for closing down the plants and worsening the recession.

About Town And Country

Co., called "manufacturers of the celebrated Johnson wagons, plows and harrows," was thriving in our city. Owned by Charles C. Johnson, F. M. Spangler and T. E. Johnson.

"The Johnson wagon has for a number of years been an article of imperial standing," says the story. "The honor of its inception belongs to N. Johnson (father of Charles C.). An improvised blacksmith shop of the early day type claims it as its birth. From that day to the present there has been no wagon built or sold in this county that is so universally demanded."

"Prior to a year ago no effort was made of any importance to manufacture the Johnson wagon on a broader scale than what the blacksmith shop would offer, at the later period the present firm was formed, and immediate steps taken to enlarge the plant."

"Suitable machinery was placed in service for both wood and iron work; the propelling power being a 16½ horsepower gasoline engine. These additions were thought to be adequate to the demand, but which only in reality tended to show how little the proprietors had reckoned the value and standing of the Johnson wagon and which illustrates the propriety of building the factory now under contemplation of multitudinous proportion."

Maybe tomorrow we'll see what the Chronicle had to say about mining in the area at that time.

Nashville Grade School Closed By Fire Damage

NASHVILLE, Ill. AP—Some 365 grade school children here are getting a holiday today while their school is patched up.

A fire Saturday caused an estimated $50,000 damage to the school, ruining the roof and damaging 8 classrooms. Supt. Chester Moss said the blaze apparently broke out around a light fixture in the hall on the second floor.

Firemen from Nashville and Pinckneyville battled the flames and smoke about two hours.

Moss said the school will reopen Tuesday with classes held in the gymnasium and cafeteria besides rooms that were not damaged. Work on a new roof will begin immediately but other repairs will not be made until after school is out this year.

Find Body of Seven-Year-Old Maria Ridulph

Found in Dense Woodland; Missing Since December

GALENA, Ill. AP—Authorities planned today to begin questioning all known sex deviates and ex-convicts in northwestern Illinois in hopes of uncovering a lead to the slayer of 7-year-old Maria Ridulph.

The body of the pretty, auburn-haired girl who had been missing since last December was found Saturday by a Minnesota couple under a rotting tree trunk in a dense woodland about 15 miles east of Galena.

Authorities said they were certain Maria was killed by a sex deviate who kidnaped her as she played near her home in Sycamore, about 90 miles east of here, last Dec. 3. But police admitted they were without a solid clue to the kidnaper's identity or the cause of her death.

De Kalb County State's Atty. Carl Swanson said, "We have no warm clues. We're just going on as we have been and looking everywhere."

State police and volunteers Monday searched a 21-square mile area around the site where the body was found, but found nothing.

Although Maria's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ridulph, Sycamore, had feared the worst, the discovery of their daughter's body came as a profound shock.

"We sort of half expected to find that Maria was dead," the father said. "But we still had some hope all the time—until last night."

Maria disappeared shortly after she and a playmate, Cathie Sigman, 8, were accosted on a street by a tall, blond man who offered Maria a piggyback ride.

Cathie ran home to get her mittens, and when she returned, Maria and the young stranger were gone.

CIA Chief Says Soviet Industry Challenges U. S.

Allen W. Dulles Addresses Chamber Of Commerce Lunch

WASHINGTON AP—Allen W. Dulles, chief of the Central Intelligence Agency, said today that Soviet industrial progress threatens to outstrip the United States and poses "the most serious challenge" ever faced by this country in time of peace.

Dulles described the current American recession as "an expensive luxury" which has given the Russians a propaganda target as damaging to U. S. prestige abroad as the first Soviet Sputniks.

Dulles spoke to a lunch held in connection with the 48th annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Produced More Steel

He made these points about the current state of the Soviet economy:

—In the first quarter of 1958, Soviet industrial production rose 11 per cent higher than a year ago, while industrial production in this country declined 11 per cent.

—For the first time in history, the Soviet bloc (including satellites and China) produced more steel than the United States during the first quarter of 1958. Russia alone produced 75 per cent as much as the U. S. did.

—Russian coal production in running about 70 percent of the U. S. rate, and Soviet machine tools output is about double that of the United States.

—The rate of growth of the Russian economy, as measured by gross national product, is increasing at a rate about double that of the American economy.

Wage Demands Too High

These were the other highlights of the opening day session of the chamber's convention.

—Sen. Wallace F. Bennett (R-Utah), a member of the Senate Finance Committee, said a tax cut on top of big defense and anti-recession spending might plunge this country 20 to 24 billion dollars into the red during the next 14 months.

—Chamber President Philip M. Talbot said organized labor may be "pricing itself out of the market" by pushing its wage demands too high. He also said the federal governments' slice of the national income is much too high and is "choking" investments and the initiative of private enterprise.

Father, Son Duel Fatally

LIBERTY, Miss. (AP)—A 53-year-old man and his teen-age son shot each other to death during a family argument Sunday, police said. Officers reported that Joe LaBruzzo and his son Bill, 16, apparently fired pistols at one another at the same instant.

The 1957 Ohio Legislature passed 336 new laws.

Crab Orchard Students Still Out In Protest

CRAB ORCHARD, Ill. AP—A high school hit by a student walk-out Friday in protest of a coach's dismissal reported attendance today at less than half of normal.

Some 100 of the 145 students at Crab Orchard high school refused to re-enter school Friday afternoon. They demanded the re-instatement of Coach Bob Gullede whose contract was not renewed because he has not completed his degree.

Officials said the students wanted to meet with the school board Saturday night. Students showed up for a meeting but only two members of the board were there.

Blasts Rock Jewish Center, Negro School

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. AP—Explosions rocked a Jewish center and a Negro school within a period of three to four minutes early today, apparently set off by a group identifying itself as "the Confederate underground."

One blast broke out windows at the rear of a combination synagogue and community center in an old residential section of the city. It partially buckled the metal side of a nearby garage and broke out windows in an apartment house.

The other charge was set off in an arcade entrance way at James Weldon Johnson Junior High School, about four miles from the synagogue. Police said there was evidence of a connection between the two bombings.

It was the third time this year that Jewish installations have been bombed in the South. In this latest incident, as in earlier dynamitings at Miami and Nashville, Tenn., there were anonymous telephoned threats of further violence against Jews and organizations promoting racial mixing.

Police said so far as could be learned no one was killed or injured by the blasts. But they said several members of the Jewish community received anonymous calls threatening Jews and organizations promoting racial mixing.

Four Dead in 4-Vehicle Crash

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. AP—Four persons—three members of a Terre Haute family and an Illinois man—were injured fatally in a four-vehicle collision Saturday night near here.

Grady O'Hare, Paris, Ill., postmaster, was killed outright in the crash on U. S. 150 north of the city.

Scott Walker, 53, Terre Haute, and his son, Lester, 17, died Sunday, and Walker's wife, Gladys, 49, died a few hours after the wreck in a Terre Haute hospital.

Authorities said O'Hare's pickup truck was struck from behind by a car driven by Mrs. Delores Goodwin, 27, New Goshen, Ind. The impact sent the truck into a head-on collision with Walker's car.

A car driven by Walker's other son, Jesse, then smashed into the wreckage. Mrs. Goodwin was reported in fair condition and Jesse Walker escaped with minor injuries.

ADEN AP—British official Robert Somerset escaped today from a desert fort where 300 rebel tribesmen had besieged him for more than 24 hours.

Somerset, political adviser in the Assarir fort district, had been cut off with about 40 loyal native soldiers in the mud brick fort eight miles below the troubled Aden-Yemen border.

Podres Hurls Dodgers 10-3 Over Cards; Cubs Pull Triple Play On Giants

Third Victory For Dodger Hurler; 6 Games Postponed

By United Press
Johnny Podres, off to the fast start of his career, may finally be headed for the 20-victory campaign that's always eluded him.

Brooklyn's 1955 World Series hero turned in his third straight victory of the season Sunday when he pitched the Dodgers to a 10-3 win over the St. Louis Cardinals. He yielded only six runs and struck out 19 batters while compiling a 1.87 earned run average.

Podres always has been regarded as one of the game's top pitchers when he's in shape but recurring back and arm ailments have prevented him from having a really big year. Even last season when his 2.66 E.R.A. was the best in the National League he had only a 12-9 won-lost record.

Johnny, 25, scattered 10 hits on Sunday and struck out five batters. He scored three of Los Angeles' five victories and is the only Dodger pitched to go the distance. Games Rained Out.

Podres' performance was the highlight of a rainy day. Six of 11 scheduled games were postponed. The Chicago Cubs pulled the season's first triple play en route to a 5-4 win over the San Francisco Giants and the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Milwaukee Braves, 6-2, in other National League games while the Detroit Tigers whipped the Cleveland Indians, 9-5 and the Boston Red Sox topped the Washington Senators, 7-5, in A.L. games.

Rookie third baseman Dick Gray hit a two-run homer and knocked in a third run with a single to pace a 10-hit Dodger attack on Sam Jones and three successors. Gil Hodges, Gino Cimoli and Don Zimmer also had two hits each as the Dodgers built a 6-1 lead in three innings. Ken Boyer homered for the Cardinals and Stan Musial went 2-for-3 to raise his major league leading average to .333.

Dale Long drove in three runs with a homer and a double to help the Cubs snap the first place Giants' four-game winning streak. Hank Sauer, who later hit his sixth homer, hit into the triple play in the first inning when Dick Drott speared his liner and caught Willie Kirkland and Willie Mays off second and third bases respectively.

Jack Sanford, NL rookie of the year in 1957, pitched a five-hitter for his second win and Richie Ashburn hit his first homer in two years as the Phillies snapped a three-game losing streak. Ashburn's homer capped a three-run third inning rally that helped hand Lew Burdette his second straight defeat. Harry Hanebrink homered for the Braves.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

Francis Florin, one of West Frankfort high school's all time basketball greats, received two special honors at the school basketball banquet last week.

Florin won the Most Valuable Player award and also the Good Sportsmanship award. The Sportsmanship award is only four years old and Florin has captured it each time.

Tim Weaver, bespectacled sophomore, was named captain of next year's cage squad.

Ten players were awarded major letters by Coach George Iubelt—Francis Romik, Vello Zavich, Bob Pitchford, Charles Blake, Warren Barty, Bruce Link, Valdo Zavich, Richard Britton, Florin and Weaver.

The letters were dressed up with the wording "South Seven Champs," "Sweet Sixteen Finalists."

Bob Taylor, the Metropolis 100-000 dollar rookie playing for Jacksonville in the Sally league, smashed out a three-run homer in the first week of the season as his team edged past Savannah, 6-5.

The 1958 University of Illinois football roster, under the heading of incoming sophomores and newcomers, lists four southern Illinois players.

One — Art Kaha of Cairo — is a sure enough soph. The other three are sophomores by being held off the varsity last season.

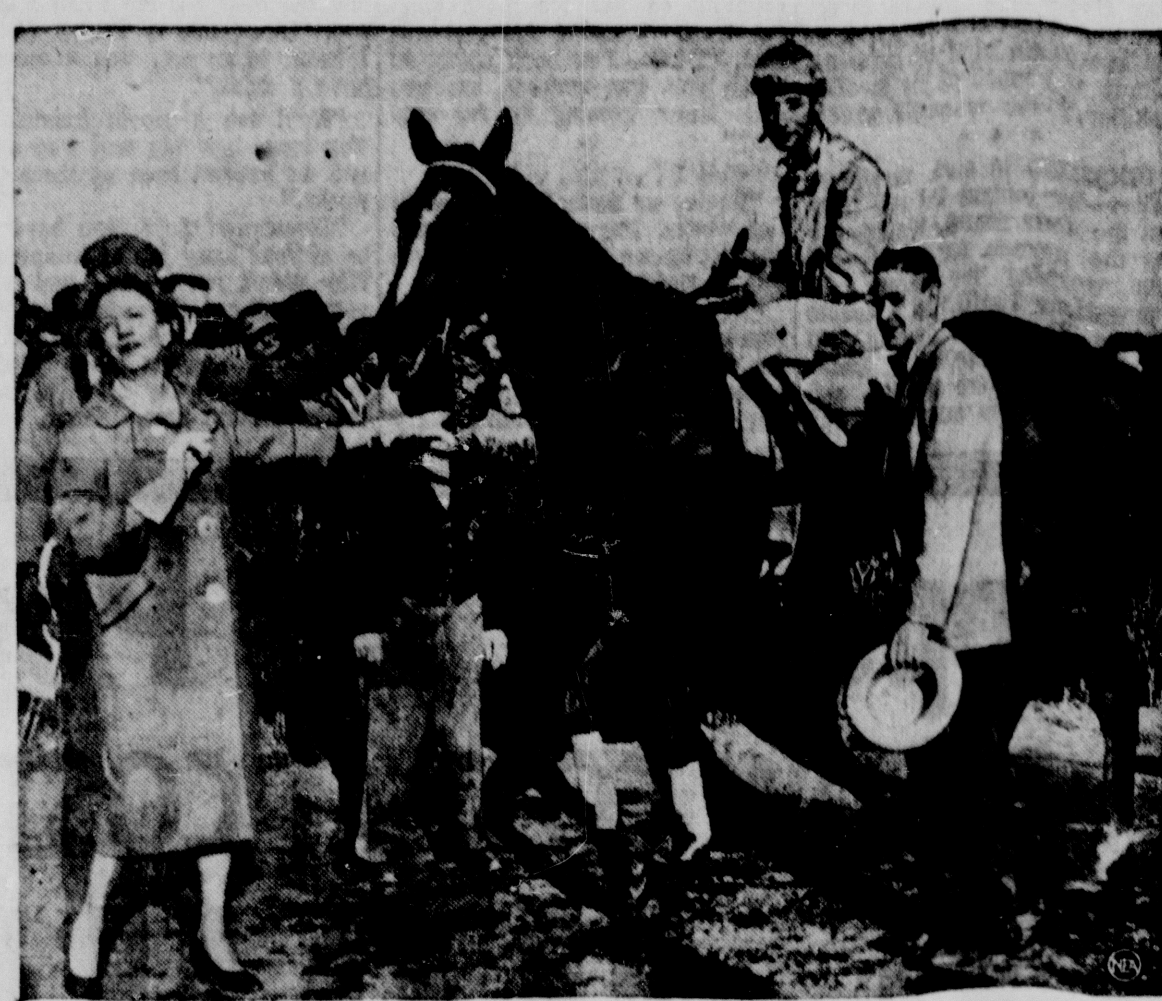

Lindell Lovellette of Eldorado, Russ Martin of Carbondale and Joe Wendryhoski of West Frankfort are all in their second year and will be starting their third year at the U. of I. this fall. However they were "red shirted" — held out of varsity competition — during the 1957 season and still have three years of varsity competition left.

The practice of "red shirting" — carried on throughout the Big Ten, has been voted out in the future, but did not affect those held back in 1957.

Lovellette is listed as a guard, 6-3, 228 pounds, 20 years old; Martin, a quarterback, is 6-0, weighs 178 and also is 20 years old; Wendryhoski, center, is 6-2, 212 pounds and the same age as the other two. Kaha is listed as a halfback, 6-3, 212 and 19 years old.

Bill Shore, top notch eager with the Cave-in-Rock high school team this past season, is now a Marine.

Shore, one of the high scorers in the Greater Egyptian conference, was a senior at Cave-in-Rock when he quit school to enter the Marine Corps.

THE WINNAH!—Jewel's Reward has brought an exultant Mrs. Elizabeth Arden Graham to the winner's circle oftener than any of the many fine horses the cosmetics queen has owned. The son of Jet Jewel had plenty of run left in him after the Wood Memorial at Jamaica. The jockey is Eddie Arcaro, the trainer Ivan Parke.

Second Annual Rural School Track, Field Meet May 9

At a dinner meeting Friday evening at Nick's 45 cafe the Saline County Rural Grade School Track and Field Association made final plans for its second annual track and field meet to be held Friday, May 9, at Taylor Field. The meet is scheduled to start at 12 noon.

Six events were added to last year's program and other ideas were incorporated to make this year's meet bigger and better than that of 1957.

New events added are: 5th grade relay, 6th grade relay, 5th grade high jump, 6th grade high jump, shot put and 220-yard relay for girls.

This will make a 16-event meet as there was competition in the baseball throw, 50-yard dash, high jump, softball throw, standing broad jump, running broad jump, 440-yard run, 220-yard dash, 100-yard dash and 440-yard relay.

Attending the dinner and planning meeting Friday were Cecil Fulkerson, president, Raleigh; Carl Beggs, vice president, West Leford; Ben Brinkley, secretary-treasurer, Muddy; Kestner Wallace, Independence.

Carl McClellan, Wesson; Almon Deen, Bixler; Lushel Prather, Mitchellville; Arthur Boyd, Brushy; Loren Tucker, Crossroads; Juanita Joiner, Pankeyville; Lilly Durham, Rudement.

There will be no admission charge to this event and the public is invited.

The original painting of "Washington Crossing the Delaware" by Emmanuel Leutze was destroyed in a 1942 Allied air raid on Bremen, Germany. German-born Luetze painted the picture in 1851 for the United States Congress.

When fire marred the canvas, he sold it to the German government. He did a copy for Congress, but it was refused. The copy now is in the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York.

Broken Leg to Keep Hartack Out of Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Every body in Derbytown knew Bill Hartack was out of this year's Kentucky Derby today — except Bill Hartack.

The three-time national champion jockey just refused to believe that a broken leg suffered in a fall at Churchill Downs Saturday would keep him off the Derby co-favorite, Calumet Farm's Tim Tam, next Saturday.

"It may be a 100 to one chance, but I've won on long shots before," Hartack insisted as he lay in a hospital bed and gazed ruefully at the plaster cast on his leg.

Dr. George Dwyer, Churchill Downs track physician, held out no such slim hope.

Hartack suffered a broken fibula when a two-year-old filly reared in the starting gate and crushed his leg against the gate.

Hartack agreed that he would not try to ride Tim Tam if he thought it would handicap the horse, and he thought Dave Erb was the logical choice to get the mount in that case.

Last year, when Calumet's Derby favorite, Gen. Duke, was injured a few days before the race, it was Hartack who bumped Erb off Calumet's second-string horse, Iron Liege, then won the Derby with him.

Tim Tam's name was to be dropped into the box today as a entry in Tuesday's Derby trial, a one-mile pre-Derby test.

Strategy Backfires for Casper In Tourney Loss

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — A bit of strategy that backfired lost the $10,000 jackpot for Billy Casper in the Tournament of Champions Sunday—but today Billy isn't a bit unhappy about it, and the new king, Stan Leonard, is the happiest guy in the world.

Casper and Leonard were engaged in a neck-and-neck duel down the home stretch in the $40,000 event, all even going into the 17th. Casper is known as a cool character under pressure. There is part of a lake along the fairway of the 17th. After much deliberation, Billy the Kid chose to play it safe.

"I decided to use my two iron, because I always hit that much straighter and I didn't want to take a chance going into the water," said Billy in retrospect. "But the ball 'hung' in the air and didn't clear the water."

Casper then had to play out of the rough and he hooked into the water again. That cooked his goose. His double-bogey put him two strokes behind Leonard from Vancouver, B. C., then went on to win with a record-smashing 72-hole score of 275 — three strokes better than the mark set by Art Wall in this event four years ago.

Casper picked up $5,000 for second place.

Frank Stranahan finished third with 280, good for $2,500. Tommy Bolt and the three-time defending champion, Gene Littler, ended with 281, each collecting $1,300. Tied at 282, good for $1,310, were E. J. (Dutch) Harrison and Masters champion Arnold Palmer.

Carbondale Relays, Rained Out Saturday, Set for Tomorrow

The Carbondale Relays, which have replaced the Herrin Relays for high school track and field teams, was postponed Saturday because of rain and has been set for tomorrow.

The preliminaries will start at 3:30 p. m. and the finals at 7:30. Postponed until Wednesday is the annual South Seven conference freshman-sophomore track and field meet. It has been set for 6 p. m. on the West Frankfort track. The South Seven Varsity meet will be at West Frankfort at 6 p. m. Friday.

LEAD WITH YOUR LEFT

by ED LACY

XXVIII

I HAD a bright idea; long as I was downtown I might as well see Uncle Frank and stick him for lunch, save some dough. I phoned and he asked, "Davie, you coming to see me?"

"Yes, I'm downtown, thought we might have a bite together." Although if Uncle Frank didn't reach for the tab first, I'd be in a fine spot.

"Who has time for lunch? I just ate a stale sandwich and a bottle of soda. My ulcer will kill me tonight. When will you be over?"

"About a half-hour. I have a few calls to make. Take it easy, Uncle, I just left another man whose blood has turned to coffee."

I hung up and dialed the Owens house. Susan's sharp voice asked, "Yes?"

"Dave Wintino."

"I've been waiting for your call. What about the money, can we—"

"So far no. I still don't know, so leave the dough alone. I've found the guy who handed out the money but things are still foggy."

"Who's Francis Parker?"

"Your father, on a tax dodge. Remember, don't touch the cash and let me talk to your mother."

There was a moment of silence and then the old lady said, "This is Mrs. Owens."

"Dave Wintino. Mrs. Owens. During March did Mr. Owens ever mention doing any outside work? I don't mean at the brokerage house, but detective work?"

"Why, I—" Jane Owens began as the operator cut in with "Five cents for the next three minutes, please."

"What did you say?" Mrs. Owens asked as I told her to hang on, dug out a nickel and put it to work. "Did Ed ever mention doing any private detective work in March?"

"No."

"When he talked about getting the little farm in California soon—about when was that?"

"About two months ago."

"At any time since he retired did he ever talk about doing private detective work?"

"No. He couldn't have done any work like that, he was home till he left for the brokerage office and then he always came right home to work in his garden before it got dark."

"Okay. Thanks. I'll keep in touch." I hung up as she started to ask about the money. I got the manager of the brokerage house on the phone, another 15-cent call since I had to wait till she finished talking on another line. He said Owens had never missed a day since he'd worked there. Wales had been sick sometimes. "You know the kind of sickness, he drank too much of his favorite pain-killer," the manager added.

I DECIDED to give myself a deadline—by tonight I'd tell Reed about the four grand, Wales watching the garage for years, and Owens working for Wren. In the meantime I still had a couple of hours in which to dig. No sense wasting time with Uncle Frank. I got some change and phoned Rose. No answer. I was counting on her for more dope on Wren. I called Ma and she said, "Davie, I've been trying to reach you. I'm cooking, are you and Mary coming up for supper?"

"Well I . . . uh . . ."

"Davie, we haven't seen you in two weeks. Papa is so hurt, you mustn't ignore us." Her voice was full of shrill pleading.

"Aw, Ma, I'm not ignoring you. I've been busy. Okay, we'll be up for dinner."

The phone company was getting rich off me. I dialed Mary and she blew her top when I told her. "Dave, this is Friday night. I want to go out, see a movie, have a drink."

"We'll see a movie tomorrow. You know how Ma and Pop are, and we haven't been up there for weeks."

"Tomorrow? Sure, you have to be at your lousy job by midnight! Why didn't you go up and see your mother this afternoon?"

"I was busy and she wants us up in the evening when Pop's there. I'm on my way to see Uncle Frank now. Come on,

Mary, you know this family stuff, I can't get out of it."

There was a heavy silence at the other end till Mary said calmly, "Dave, I'm not going to make a scene. I'll phone and beg off, tell them the truth: I'm tired. You go up and—"

"You bet I'm going!" I said.

I'd heard a lot about Uncle Frank's joint but I'd never visited the place before. It actually was a beehive of activity, or something. And it really wasn't his place, he was a one-third partner.

Uncle Frank looked as though he was made up for laughs—an old pair of dungarees, a dirty loud plaid shirt, a dead cigar in his mouth like a whistle, and a pair of pince-nez glasses on his fat nose.

Frank never stood still for a second; walking and running all over the place, taking packages from one conveyor belt to another, or throwing them down a chute, bawling out people, screaming orders. There seemed to be thousands of packages, from tiny tin boxes to big crates. At the end of each roller, where the chutes started, there were scales and girls, perched beside the scales.

Uncle Frank always was a jerky talker and as he showed me around he would break off a sentence with a nervous yell to somebody about, "Why are you shipping dresses today? It's Friday. All dress good: go express."
